

Jennifer Bagley, MPH, RDMS, RVT, FAIUM

Director, SDMS Board of Directors

Jennifer is an Associate Professor at the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center in Tulsa, Oklahoma. She has received multiple awards at the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center for her research, scholarly activity, service, and teaching. Jennifer has also received the SDMS Distinguished Educator Award (2016), the SDMS Kenneth R. Gottesfeld

Award First Place (2016) and Second Place (2017), and the Journal of Ultrasound in Medicine Distinguished Peer Reviewer Award (2016).

Her mother was influential in Jennifer choosing sonography as a career. "My mother convinced me that sonography would provide diverse career opportunities. I was also fortunate enough to train with some amazing mentors at the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center. Between my mom and the guidance and support of mentors, I have had an amazing career that has spanned the field from staff sonographer, clinical applications specialist and now a sonography educator."

Jennifer holds a Bachelor of Arts in Russian Studies from the University of Oklahoma, a Bachelor of Science Radiologic Technology in Sonography and a Master of Public Health from the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center.

